

Dear <Insert Manager's Name>,

I'm writing to request your approval to attend swampUP, taking place Oct 20-22, 2026 in Barcelona, Spain. As a member of the DevOps/DevSecOps/Security team, I see swampUP as an invaluable opportunity to significantly enhance my technical skills and gain a deeper understanding of the JFrog Platform. The first day of swampUP is the JFrog Academy Training Day, followed by two days packed with innovative and informative keynotes and sessions. Attending JFrog swampUP would allow me to acquire a concentrated amount of practical knowledge and training in just a few days, which would otherwise take much longer through individual courses.

Here are a few reasons my attendance would benefit our team:

- Sharpen my skill set and expand my knowledge to better defend against software supply chain attacks
- Learn about upcoming compliance and regulations for our industry so we can implement better end-to-end security automation and auditing
- Implement processes to help us produce well-secured software and avoid compromise of open-source code
- swampUP registrants get access to:
  - Complimentary takeaway deck with valuable key learnings from the conference
  - Post-conference private, internal training available for our team
  - Private JFrog hosted security workshop for our team

Attending swampUP can help us maximize our JFrog ROI. Past attendees said their business and technical improvements outweighed the cost of going to swampUP.
